IN HOUSE

CANNEX is seeking an experienced and commercially savvy corporate lawyer to join its office in Toronto. Reporting to the CEO, you will lead challenging contract negotiations and provide strategic legal advice on risk management, information security and intellectual property matters. The successful candidate will act as a key advisor to the business on commercial and compliance matters and must possess strong communication skills in order to engage effectively across all levels, both internally and with clients.

The ideal candidate will have 5 to 8 years of experience with corporate/commercial matters and a strong understanding of technology contracts and regulatory issues relating to information privacy. Candidates with exposure to vendor management and information security practices within the banking, investment, and insurance industries will be preferred. This is a unique opportunity to provide leadership on legal and risk matters for the business and partner with management and subject matter experts on additional business responsibilities.

CANNEX provides flexible working hours and enjoys a tremendous reputation in the financial services industries in Canada and the U.S. The company prides itself on having great people, great ideas, and providing great services.
